Afghan Authentic hand made ice cream

Sheer yakh and Jala

Sheeryakh

Jala

Falooda

Sheeryakh Small 5.50 Large 7.00
This is an authentic handmade Afghani ice cream, which is one of the most popular desserts in Afghanistan. During the preparation process, no automated machinery is used to make this ice cream, it is completely made by hand using traditional methods. The recipe for this ice cream is Boiled/condensed milk, sugar and cardamom, topped with crumbled pistachios with a drizzle of creamy milk or clotted cream Malai or Qimaq (optional).

Jala Small 6.50 Large 7.50
This authentic ice cream is made using the same handmade methods as Sheeryakh (see above), which is also similar to the ones used to make Indian Kulfi Ice Cream. The recipe for this ice cream is Boiled/condensed milk, sugar and cardamom, topped with noodles and crusted ice, crumbled pistachios with a drizzle of creamy milk or clotted cream Malai or Qimaq (optional). (Please note both the above ice creams do not contain any eggs among their ingredients.)

Falooda Small 6.50 Large 7.50
Is a cold dessert with origins in the Indian subcontinent. Traditionally is made by mixing rose syrup, vermicelli, sweet basil (sabza / takmaria) seeds with Malai or Qimaq and our mouth-watering Afghan authentic handmade ice cream sheeryakh. Falooda is not only a drink but can be a meal in itself. Some ingredients like soaked basil seeds have a cooling effect on the body. Falooda is topped with crumbled pistachios with a drizzle of creamy milk or clotted cream Malai or Qimaq (optional).
